

Greeting fellow co-laborers in Christ

At the beginning of the year, we visited our missionary, whom we started supporting as a church (Jorge Lopez), in Compostela, Mexico, about 8 hours south of us. He is starting work there and already has a couple of families. We were able to take a group of folks from the church and donate a pulpit and a few chairs to his ministry. The goal was to hand out tracts and invite folks from that town to an evangelistic meeting. We spent almost a week there, handing out close to 10,000 tracts. On the weekend, we had a few visitors to the special services, and a few got saved.

In March, we had our 3rd church camp. A couple of preachers from here in Mexico came to preach to us, and we had teens and kids memorize Bible verses, with some memorizing more than 20. From all the camps we have had as a church, this one was probably the best one so far. God just met with our church in a special way.

We were also able to help another youth camp in Nazas, Durango. We took the tent stage, and the speakers also donated a pulpit to their mission. We served at a camp with over 130 teens.

The church is growing; we have had first-time and second-time visitors at the last few services, and they have continued to come. Help us pray for their salvation and for the discipleship of those who have gotten saved.

Please help us pray, we have been renting the same church property ever since we started, about three years ago. The church folks and I have talked about buying a property, specifically in an area where we do not have to pay rent and can invest in our own church building. They talk about even if we just set up the tent and have service in that property, will we construct. The property we are looking at has costs of around 8,000 dollars.

Thank you once again for all you have done and are doing in Mexico for the glory of God through your support and prayers.

Our Prayer is that God will wear me out for his name's sake.
